7th Annual: Using Data to Inform Instruction – Focus on Continuous Improvement

Featuring:

Victoria Bernhardt, Ph.D., Executive Director, Education for the Future Initiative

Assisted by:

Chandana Reddy, Consultant and Project Manager of Software Development, Global Talent Metrics

Monday, October 12, 2009

8:30 A.M. – 4:00 P.M.

School teams of 4-5 members per school are invited to upload demographic, perception and achievement data into a software program that will be used in a one-day, hands-on planning session. At the end of the workshop school teams will have:

- Analyzed a wealth of school data
- Developed or refined schools goals
- Assigned activities to goals
- Allocated funds to implement activities
- Structured or refined their local assessment system

The workshop will introduce and illustrate use of scale scores for local assessments and benefits of using these scores for setting proficiency level cut points.

Register online at: <http://santaclara.k12oms.org/>. Detailed description will be posted in August.

Team price: $600 (lunch included) – limit 20 school teams

Price includes conference registration, and one day follow-up onsite consultation per school. Sites attending from out of Santa Clara County must pay travel expenses or conduct site consultation via distance or virtual meeting such as GoToMeeting or WebEx.
