

Pyramid Response to Intervention 2-Day Workshop

June 16-17, 2009

To register online, got to <http://santaclara.k12oms.org>

Overview

This hands-on, interactive workshop illustrates how RTI is most effective when implemented on the foundation of a professional learning community (PLC). Learn to create three tiers of interventions—from basic to intensive—to address student learning gaps. You will learn what a successful program looks like and understand how to make RTI work in your school.

Please plan to attend as a team and bring individual student and schoolwide achievement data.

You Will Learn

- How RTI blurs the boundaries between regular and special education to create a unified system that serves all students
- Two accepted systems for implementing RTI and modes of RTI at work in real schools
- How the 3 big ideas of a PLC—focus on learning, build a collaborative culture, and focus on results—make PLC and RTI natural partners
- The characteristics of effective interventions
- The central importance of building a strong core program
- How to create effective supplements to the core program

Institute Topics

- Status Reports From PLC Schools
- What Are Your Current Realities?
- Defining and Identifying “Underrepresented” Students
- Resource Allocation
- Response to Intervention
- Intervention Roles, Support, Guidelines
- Examining the Models
- Building Consensus, Dealing With Resisters
- Identify Next Steps

Presenter

Geri Parscale is director of instruction for Fort Leavenworth Unified School District 207. Geri delivers highly interactive presentations that engage participants and inspire them to implement essential PLC concepts.
