Response to Instruction and Intervention: Providing Equity and Access for All Students

Building a Tiered Intervention System

Based on Pyramid Response to Intervention by Buffum, Mattos, and Weber

Audience:

Administrators, Coaches, Teachers

When:

December 9, 2009

Time:

3:30-7:00 p.m.

Location:

Santa Clara County Office of Education

Fee:

FREE

Join colleagues in exploring the tiered intervention system known as Response to Intervention and Instruction (RtI²). This hierarchy of intervention is designed to meet the needs of students who demonstrate underachievement in literacy and mathematics. We will examine implementation readiness at each tier. Elements of issues regarding the relationship of high quality teaching and classroom management, fidelity to adopted programs, differentiation, professional learning teams, and coaching will be shared. Time will be given for teams to begin documenting systems and interventions that currently exist in their setting.
