

Arts in Your Classroom

Visual Arts & Literacy

Presenter: Susan Freeman, Visual & Literary Artist

Join highly regarded practitioner and Bay Area California Arts Project workshop leader, Susan Freeman, in a workshop focusing on visual arts learning and powerful ways to enter into text and oral language. As a visual and literary artist and expert language arts teacher and teacher educator, Susan will guide you in

- “Hands-on” experience with collage techniques and using source texts to make individual accordion books
- Strategies for building standards-based skills in creating and using images to express ideas, emotions, characterization and events
- Tools and strategies that meet the needs of English Language Learners, including building skills in writing descriptions using sensory details

Registration deadline:
Wednesday, May 12, 2010

You must register to attend

Register online at:

<http://santaclara.k12oms.org/1050-33032>

Who: K-12, educators, teaching artists
And partners

When: Saturday, May 15, 2010

Time: 10:00 a.m. -1:00 p.m.

Venue: Montalvo Arts Center
Commons Building
15400 Montalvo Road
Saratoga, CA 95071

Fee: $20; includes workshop materials
&
light refreshments

Questions: 408.453.6578 (Lilia Agüero)

Susan Freeman:

A visual and literary artist, language arts teacher and teacher educator, SUSAN FREEMAN has worked with the Cultural Council of Santa Cruz County's SPECTRA Program, the Bay Area California Arts Project, and the California Writing Project. She co-coordinated and taught visual arts in the 2004-06 Silicon Valley Arts in the Classroom program for Santa Clara County K-5 teachers and in the UCSC/SPECTRA Midsummer Arts Institutes. Susan has served as adjunct faculty at UC Santa Cruz, Pacific Oaks and Cabrillo College.

In collaboration with 